Two-Bit Fishing Licenses for Oldsters Talked

Ohio Senate Passes Bill To Revise State Conservation Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohioans past 65 soon may be able to get fishing licenses for a token payment of 25 cents. That's $1.75 less than the regular fee.

The fee reduction is among provisions in a bill passed by the Senate Thursday as the legislature finished its 17th work week. The bill now goes to the House.

The legislature two years ago gave recipients of Aid for the Aged free fishing licenses, but failed to do anything about non-recipients who have passed retirement age.

"I wonder whether I dare vote for the bill?" cracked 68-year-old Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, in a loud whisper while the roll was being called. "Would that be a conflict of interest?"

Other provisions of the fishing bill permit free fishing licenses for those persons legally blind and require persons 16 years and older to have licenses. Presently, Ohioans under 18 need not have licenses. Furthermore, it makes any person on active duty with U.S. Armed Forces eligible for a resident fishing license even though he is not an Ohio resident.

In another major action, the Senate accepted minor House amendments and completed legislative action on an entirely rewritten commercial code for the state. The revamped code is part of a nationwide movement to make commercial law uniform throughout the United States.

The Senate received almost a duplicate of a bill defeated Wednesday to permit civil actions in vandalism cases. The original, by Sen. Fred L. Hoffman R-Hamilton, would have permitted persons filing vandalism actions to collect half the amount of money—anywhere from $10 to $100—forced by the culprit. The substitute, offered by Sen. Roy Gardner, R-Richland, strips the forfeiture-sharing provision from the bill.

Across the Statehouse, the House of Representatives defeated a bill which would have required licensing of crop-dusting airplanes. The measure got only 37 affirmative votes with 85 members opposed. Sponsors said the measure would not have hurt the 10 crop dusters based in Ohio, but opponents feared it might discourage out-of-state crop dusters hired by Ohio farmers.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill requiring persons riding animals to use the left side of streets and highways.

Another bill was introduced in the Senate. It would lift the present ban on two horse race meetings less than 50 miles apart or in the same county at the same hour if one of the events involves a state, county or independent fair.

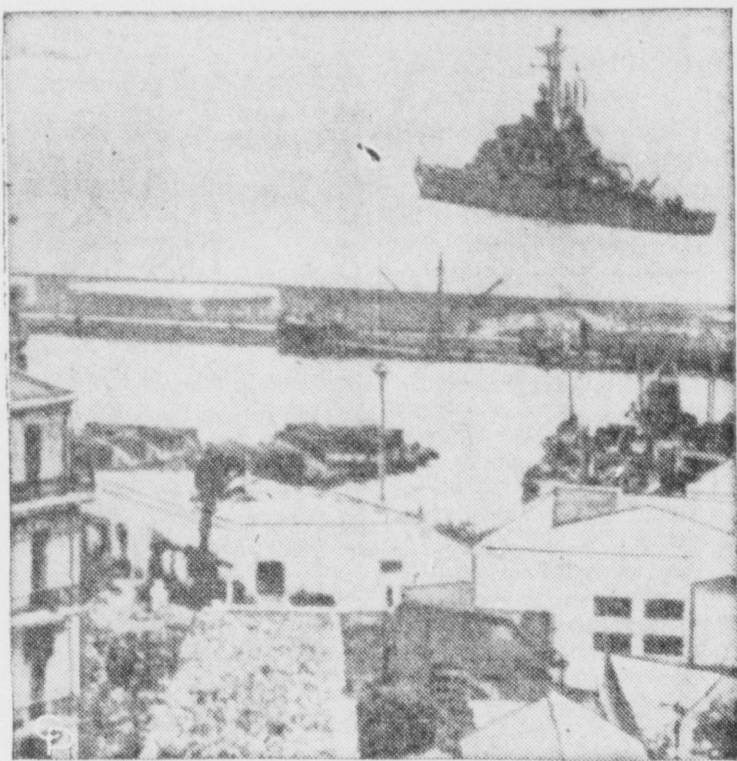

Meanwhile there were indications that opposition is withering in the Senate to a bill to require annual inspection of all school buses carrying nine or more pupils. The bill was defeated earlier in the week on an 18-18 tie vote after sailing through the House with only light opposition. A motion to reconsider the defeat is pending in the Senate.

DiSalle, Rep. Brown Josh at Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, a Democrat, had Republican House members from his state at luncheon guests Thursday, one GOP lawmaker laughingly suggested that the meal might be charged to the governor's expense account. But quick-witted DiSalle replied to Rep. Clarence J. Brown that he doubted if the Ohio auditor, Republican James A. Rhodes, would approve. Both DiSalle and Brown said such bipartisan matters as unemployment in Ohio and efforts to get the state more defense contracts were taken up at the luncheon.

ON GUARD IN ALGIERS — Units of the French Mediterranean fleet lie at anchor outside Algiers as calm comes to the strife-torn city.

DeGaulle's Purge in Algeria Brings Arrest of 400-Plus

ALGIERS (AP)—A vast purge was launched in Algeria today to stamp out the last remnants of rebellion among the military and European civilians. Five generals were sent off to France under arrest and three more military units were ordered dissolved.

A spokesman for the Information Ministry said a roundup of rebellious elements had resulted in 400 arrests. More are expected as President Charles de Gaulle moves swiftly to crush opposition to his policy of self-determination in Algeria.

Among the five generals arrested and secretly sent to France was Gustave Tridon, chief of staff of the gendarmerie in Algeria, a professional who entered the gendarmerie in 1932. He was made a brigadier general only last month. The other four were relatively minor generals.

The spokesman, Jacques Coup de Frejac, said the five generals, five colonels and a navy lieutenant will face trial for the four-day revolt in Algeria.

The spokesman listed military units ordered disbanded as the 14th and 18th Alpine parachute regiments; and an air force unit formed to fight on the ground.

They are in addition to breaking up the 1st Foreign Legion Parachute Regiment, ordered Thursday. All its officers are prisoners. The regiment was the military backbone of the week-end uprising.

The spokesman said sanctions of one kind or another have been taken against 200 officers. Other authorities said 70 policemen in Algiers were among those under arrest.

Coup de Frejac told newsmen three newspapers have been suspended until the investigation is over—Echo d'Alger, Depeche Quotidienne and Derniere Heure. Other sources disclosed that 12 staff members of Radio Algiers were suspended or transferred. A high appeals court judge was suspended.

Gendarme raids turned up 8,250 arms held illegally, the spokesman reported. These were confiscated from right-wing settlers who had them in their homes.

Coup de Frejac said there still is no news of the whereabouts of three generals who, with now imprisoned Gen. Maurice Challe led the military coup. They are Andre Zeller, Raoul Salan and Edmond Jouhaud. There is general belief the three still are in Algeria.

Jailed as a common criminal, Challe, 55, was given two days to name a legal adviser—or take one appointed by the court—and then only eight more days to prepare his defense.

Using the dictatorial powers he assumed to combat Challe's rebellion, De Gaulle sent police on raiding missions throughout France and Algeria. More than 600 right wingers were rounded up. About 200 arrests were made in the Paris area alone, including 15 army officers. But none of the better known members of the "Algeria is French" movement was picked up.

The swift moves by De Gaulle neutralized—at least for the moment—opposition to his peace gestures toward the Algerian Nationalists to end the seven-year rebellion in that North African territory.

"We have played our last card," said one European settler. "My main objective now is to get out of Algeria."

The answer of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization is given in a word—dust, radioactive dust. Thirty million or more Americans might be killed, burned or maimed in a surprise nuclear assault that hit 100 cities, airfields, ports and missile bases.

But the other 150 million Americans could survive, retaliate, rebuild and wage war, if only they could be sheltered from the infected dust, or could outrun it.

The doorway and the bridge are considered little more than symbolic makeshifts at this date for a nationwide shelter program which OCDM wants to initiate.

All normal radio and television broadcasting was silenced from 4 to 4:30, with only Conelrad being heard on two distinct radio frequencies.

Cash-Flashing Widow Is Robbed by Pair

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Police today sought three men who took $100 and five small diamond rings from a 73-year-old widow. She made headlines last month by flashing $22,000 in cash at an Indianapolis bus station.

The robbery took place Wednesday morning at the residence shared by Mrs. Edith Falor the widow; Howard John, 79, and his wife, Margaret, 77. Two of the robbers ransacked the house while a third man waited in a getaway car.

Space Capsule Passes Final Shot Test OK

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)—The Mercury space capsule underwent its final and most severe unmanned test today with this verdict: A man aboard unquestionably could have survived.

Next week an American astronaut at Cape Canaveral, Fla., will stake his life on that finding.

Little Joe VII, a cluster of eight solid propellant rockets, leaped up from this test station of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at 9:04 a.m. with the 3,000-pound space chamber on its nose.

Half an hour later, after a flight that produced stresses even more violent than the extreme conditions that had been planned, the capsule was back on the beach after a parachute-cushioned landing in the sea and fast recovery by a helicopter.

Meantime the vehicle had been blasted loose from the booster by rocket devices intended to save a space flier in case of trouble in the liftoff.

Asked if a man could have lived through it, project manager William M. Bland replied: "Unquestionably."

The aim was to determine whether the equipment would work under the most punishing conditions an astronaut might encounter.

Next comes the real test—probably next Tuesday—at Cape Canaveral, Fla., with man aboard for a longer ride.

Little Joe VII, consisting of six solid-propellant rockets, blasted off at 9:04 a.m. from this Virginia Eastern Shore test center. The space chamber with two ballast-filled dummies aboard, rode on the vehicle's nose.

In 30 seconds the rocket lifted

YMCA Assembly Takes Over Capitol

The 10th annual YMCA Model Legislature takes over the state capitol today and will elect six candidates from a field of 20 to the posts of governor, lieutenant governor, speaker of the House, clerks of Senate and House and chaplain.

More than 380 Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y members from throughout the state will attend the make-believe school in government through Sunday.

Gov. John W. Donahey will preside over a joint session of the student delegates. Later he will preside over a mock Senate session, while House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, will do the same at a House session.

Welfare Board Authority May Be Halted by Judge

The Pickaway County Child Welfare Board's authority over children at the Children's Home may cease within 30 days.

Pickaway County Probate and Juvenile Judge Guy G. Cline yesterday said he will formulate an order terminating the jurisdiction of the Child Welfare Board until they (members of the board) can operate the Home in compliance with the law and to the satisfaction of himself and the prosecuting attorney.

The Juvenile Court inquiry, which began April 14, continued yesterday afternoon shortly after 1:30 p. m.

Judge Cline voiced the order to end the Child Welfare Board's authority after about two hours of overruling objections made by John Hennessey, Columbus attorney, representing the Child Welfare Board and Children's Home Superintendent Winfield Koch.

The inquiry was opened with an objection by Hennessey who questioned jurisdiction of the court in the matter at hand. The Columbus attorney's contention was that the problem is one for the Board of County Commissioners to hear, not the Juvenile Court.

Hennessey also requested that the matter be dropped and "ironed out" at a meeting of the Child Welfare Board.

Judge Cline overruled Hennessey's objections and referred to a section of the Ohio Revised Code which led him to state that the juvenile judge may, at any time, require information from an association receiving children concerning any child committed to it by the judge.

The inquiry continued when Winfield Koch was asked to take the witness stand.

Judge Cline conducted the interrogation. Questions were asked concerning finances of the farm at the Home, both monies spent and incoming.

The Judge questioned Koch's authority to keep animals on the farm for his own use. Another question dealt with the rotation of buying groceries and shoes among various businesses in Circleville.

In answer, Koch said that he

Pickaway County Area OK for Federal Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Small Business Administration has designated tornado-hit Preble County, Ohio, and adjacent areas as a disaster area. The designation makes property owners suffering damage in Tuesday's high winds eligible for loans at 3 percent interest. Applications will be received at the SBA's Cleveland office.

A test of an Atlas boosting an unmanned capsule failed on April 25.

For safety of the human astronaut, the U.S. program from the start called first for a short or sub-orbital flight in the Mercury was granted permission by the Board several years ago to raise a few animals on the farm for his son. Koch contended that the feeding and care of the animals were taken care of by his son at his own expense.

According to the minute book of the Child Welfare Board, a motion was approved in 1955 to rotate the places of business in Circleville where groceries and shoes were purchased.

Hennessey brought it to the court's attention that Judge Cline was serving as a member of the Child Welfare Board at that time, from January 1955 to April 1958.

Judge Cline, continuing to overrule objections, stated that he was aware that he was a member of the Board at that time. However, the Judge said many times there were questions in his mind concerning activity of the board.

The Columbus attorney vigorously objected to the court's questioning on the grounds that the questions were irrelevant to the caption or purpose of the inquiry.

Judge Cline insisted that he had a right to know the answers to questions he was asking under the authority given him by the statute concerning the reports and information.

Cline continued to say that if Koch and Kenneth Shepler, chairman of the board, want to obstruct the obtaining of information he would make the order terminating the jurisdiction of the Child Welfare Board until they satisfy the court and the prosecuting attorney that they are doing so in compliance with the law.

No further court action has been scheduled concerning the inquiry. Observers close to the scene yesterday felt only time will tell what action will take place now.

U.S. Astronaut Set To Risk His Neck, Nation's Prestige

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Next week an American astronaut risks his neck and the nation's prestige in a 15-minute partial hop into space.

It's only a toe step compared with Yuri Gagarin's momentous vault completely around the earth in 108 minutes. The American is to shoot 115 miles high, and nearly 300 miles out over the Atlantic.

So why risk it?

History supplies one answer: Columbus pioneered America.

But Spain did not win the new continent.

Like Columbus, Gagarin opened the new frontier of space, with treasures of knowledge or practical benefits possibly to be won there. There's a long future ahead for man in space.

But the Soviet Union has not yet offered other nations her rockets — or even the detailed knowledge — so they can duplicate her feat.

Now the Soviet Union has a fully-tested rocket which can orbit a five-ton capsule. It is roomy, it is equipped with two escape hatches for safety, the Soviets report. And it could carry enough oxygen and food to keep Gagarin alive for 10 days, if need be.

The hard and goading fact is the United States is not yet sure that her No. 1 operational warhead rocket—the Atlas—can reliably chance sending a man into orbit. Or that he and his one-ton capsule can be safely landed from orbit.

A test of an Atlas boosting an unmanned capsule failed on April 25.

For safety of the human astronaut, the U.S. program from the start called first for a short or sub-orbital flight in the Mercury

Accused Kidnapers Are Freed on Bond

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Two men charged by the FBI with kidnaping have been released on $5,000 bail each. Police said the pair admitted the theft of a car in East Liverpool, Ohio, and the abduction of its driver at gunpoint Tuesday.

The two men, Constantine D. Psihogio, 23, and Harry John Sembrakis, 27, of Chicago, were released Thursday after posting bond at a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Edmund Miller. FBI officials said the abducted driver, James Graham of Newell, W.Va., was freed in Beaver County, Pa.

The "neither" group won.

Radio Demands Conference in Renegade City

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Western-backed Laotian government's noon target hour for a cease-fire in the civil war passed today with no response from the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels.

Proclaiming "we are the victors," rebel broadcasts were still demanding Thursday that the Vientiane government send a delegation to their headquarters at Xieng Khouang, in eastern Laos, "to negotiate and discuss the cease-fire and armistice question."

The Vientiane government showed no disposition to bow to the rebel demand and instead hoped that negotiations would get under way this weekend in Luang Prabang, the royal capital 138 miles north of Vientiane, at the ceremonial cremation of the late King Sisavang Vong.

Top officials of Premier Boun Oum's government and diplomats were gathering in Luang Prabang for the cremation, one of the most important events in the little kingdom's recent history. But there was no indication so far that Prince Souvanna Phouma, whom the Communist bloc recognizes as the legal premier of Laos, and his half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the Pathet Lao, would attend.

Souvanna and Souphanouvong are relatives of the late king and Buddhist tradition requires their attendance at the rites.

Souvanna Phouma arrived back in Laos today after nine months in self-imposed exile.

Blaming the Western powers for the civil war, he flew to Xieng Khouang, in the Plaine Des Jarres, after a tour of European and Asian capitals that culminated in joint declarations of mutual support with Communist China and North Viet Nam.

British quarters in Vientiane have said that Boun Oum and Souvanna Phouma must form a coalition government to represent all Laos at the Geneva conference scheduled to meet May 12 to chart the future of the country.

But the declaration Souvanna Phouma and Premier Pham Van Dong of North Viet Nam issued in Hanoi today treated the Laotian as the head of a full-fledged government. The statement said they had decided to exchange ambassadors and sign "in the immediate future" an agreement on economic and cultural questions.

Twenty-four hours before Souvanna Phouma's return, acting rebel Premier Khamouk Keola declared in a statement: "At present, we are preparing to receive the delegation from Vientiane which is to come to Xieng Khouang to negotiate and discuss the cease-fire and armistice question."

He added: "We and the Pathet Lao, fighting units ardently love peace and do not want war. We are the victors. However, we propose to hold peaceful negotiations on our own initiative. This fully shows our desire of peace."

WAC, Private Go AWOL To Get Married

CLEVELAND (AP) — Everybody loves lovers? Not the Army—especially when the couple runs off from a Texas Army camp without leave to get married.

The former Carol A. Twyman, 18 of Cleveland, a member of the Women's Army Corps (WAC) and her husband, PFC. Gary H. Vollick, 21, of Rochester, N.Y., arrived in Cleveland to spend their honeymoon.

The pair was arrested at the home of Mrs. Vollick's parents and wound up in separate cells in county jail Thursday night. They had left Fort Hood, Tex., on April 18 and were married two days later in Tulsa, Okla. Neither had a pass.

Vollick said they had been having trouble getting permission to marry at the base before they went AWOL. The two met at Fort Hood last November. An Army spokesman said they probably would be sent back to Fort Hood for court-martial.

Boosters Discuss Improvement Plan

A special committee of officers and directors of the Circleville Booster Club last night discussed at length the possibilities of improving athletic facilities here.

Held to the talking stage was the proposal for erection of a new football field, stadium, track and baseball field in the Nicholas Drive area. Land was recently purchased there for a new elementary school. General contract and allied bids already have been let for the project.

The long session was held at the home of Clark Martin, Cedar Heights Road.

Attending the meeting was Fred Domenico, former football coach and athletic director at Washington C. H. High School. He presented detailed information concerning a similar athletic improvement project completed about two years ago in WCH.

THE special Booster committee has made inquiries at several schools in Central Ohio in order to gain information on how such improvement projects are initiated and completed. The surveys were made at Washington, Pleasant View and Berne Union.

Domenico, a leader in the WCH project, told Boosters a unified effort is needed, along with a solid financial structure if the improvement plan is to be successful.

Domenico, now with an insurance firm, said Washington completed its plan which eventually saw the school obtain a new stadium and an improved lighting system. He said cost of the project was $30,000.

The former Blue Lions coach said the plan in Washington received excellent backing from about 60 business and professional men who signed notes up to $500 each. He said the money was obtained through a local bank.

Domenico said the promotion group was incorporated as the Washington Athletic Facilities Corporation. He said WAFCO then set out to establish a sound plan for payment of the loan.

According to the speaker, 300 seats of the new structure were earmarked as WAFCO property, with all revenue and receipts from them slated to go directly to payment of the loan each year. In this fashion WAFCO assumed responsibility for at least $3,000 in annual payment.

DOMENICO said the Washington venture required close-knit planning, professional help and constant coordination with the high school athletic board. He said he was confident the project could be a success in Circleville.

The CHS Booster committee agreed to discuss the program further at an open meeting Monday in the social rooms of the

Board Members Hear Reports

A regular monthly meeting of the Pickaway County Red Cross chapter board of directors was conducted this week in chapter headquarters, 114 N. Court St., by George Hamrick, board chairman.

Mrs. Rolif Wolford, executive secretary, reported that so far in April the local office has handled four welfare cases, given counseling and limited service to eight persons, granted a request by a staff member for an emergency leave of absence and approved four loans to needy persons totaling $230.13.

Mrs. Lewis Cook, Mrs. Helen Joans and Dr. Robert Smith were appointed to a nominating committee to present a slate of candidates for office at the chapter's annual dinner meeting June 28, at a place to be named later.

Don Collins, Everett Beers and Dr. Smith were selected by Hamrick to serve as a committee to consider the purchase of a new station wagon for the chapter.

County Joins In CD Alert

Circleville and Pickaway County will participate in the annual nationwide civil defense alert, Operation Alert 1961.

Highlighting the drill is a simulated nuclear attack scheduled for 4 p. m. today. Federal, state and local governments were to participate in the drill.

All radio and television broadcasting was slated to cease at 4 p. m. today for 30 minutes. At this time civil defense officials will broadcast over AM radio stations 1620 and 1240 on the radio dial.

The alert is conducted each year to test the methods and operation of civil defense organizations throughout the country.

THREE local civil defense officers yesterday conducted air raid drills and fire drills for a time check in all county high schools. David Griner, chief of the local security service, Bruce Barnes, and Charles Wiggins, school civil defense officers, conducted the drills.

The civil defense officers commended Ashville-Harrison High School on its speed in getting to shelter areas.

A civil defense radio communication center has been installed at the Memorial Hall. It will be operated during the simulated attack by Ned R. Young, city CD officer, and Harry B. Timmons, county CD officer.

Dr. Conrad Aids Study of Fungus

A series of experiments on three common foot fungi by Dr. Nancy Lu Conrad of Circleville was recently reported in the Journal of the American Podiatry Association.

Dr. Conrad experiments showed that a culture media of potato broth and carrot broth used in combination with a vitamin B complex produced an advantageous fungus growth.

Fungus cultures have previously been difficult to keep stable under existing laboratory conditions and as a result of her experiments it will be possible for podiatrists to study fungus growth under more favorable conditions.

The judge dissolved a temporary restraining order barring the union from making a contract with the Musical Arts Association, sponsor of the orchestra.

Congo Struggles Bravely To Build Up Education

Editor's Note—A prime need of the Congo is education—but there are enormous difficulties both on the higher and secondary level. They are explained in this last of a series on the Congo's big problems by John A. Kennedy, publisher and editor-in-chief of the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader, and Mrs. Kennedy. They just completed a tour of the troubled nation.

By JOHN A. KENNEDY
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—There were only 19 native Congolese college graduates in the whole of the Congo at the time it received independence last July.

In that fact, according to Dr. M. Dartique, senior educational consultant to the United Nations, lies the explanation for most of the Congo's troubles today.

He had traveled through the six provinces of the country on his special duties as a UNESCO representative several times before. On those trips he questioned the Belgians as to why they didn't send Congolese secondary school graduates to Brussels or other centers for university training.

The answers invariably were, he said, that students who were sent from other African colonies to England, France, or the United States to study came back as "partially educated radicals."

Mrs. Kennedy and I got about the same answers in our tour of the Congo, talking with its experts, inspecting its schools and colleges two years ago.

The Belgians started to create a university—Louvainum—that would be a credit to any nation. It is modeled after the centuries-old institution of the same name in the mother country.

More than $15 million was poured into its modern, beautiful, efficient plant and laboratories.

It opened in 1954 with 33 students described by Monsignor L. Gillon, its president, as an "audacious move," considering the difficulty in recruiting students.

When we visited the Congo first in 1959, they had 450 students in its various colleges, two thirds of whom were Belgians. When we visited this time, all but 10 were Africans. There is a college of medicine, agronomy, engineering, and a school of law is being started. Louvainum's hospital is as modern as any in the United States.

The question of secondary education in the Congo is no less urgent.

Two years ago in Elisabethville, Mrs. Kennedy and I visited a Congolese grammar school. It was of the four-year variety but had students ranging in age from 8 to 25.

Its director complained of a serious problem—the older students, when finished, didn't want to go to secondary school. Because of their age they felt they should be able to enter universities and colleges on graduation—the equivalent of completion of the sixth and seventh grade in the United States.

The lack of a school system with sufficiently high standards on the secondary level, Monsignor Gillon says, is the worst problem facing the Congo.

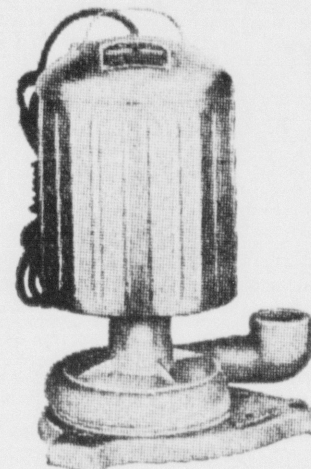

"The aid which countries abroad must give the Congo is first and foremost a direct effort in the development of secondary education," he said. "In the immediate future, this aid must provide the Congo with secondary school teachers and help the Congo train its own teachers for this level of education."

Primary education was being pushed by the Belgians in the few years before independence—but unfortunately too little and too late.

There were about 1,500,000 students in schools before the chaotic independence of last July, but more than 900,000 were in the first two grades.

Newspapers Urged To Be 'Sluggers' in Daily Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—A Texas editor said newspapers do not need defenders but rather sluggers who will make the daily newspaper imperative to troubled citizens hungering for information in a tense world.

"We must prove the reasons our being," Felix R. McKnight, vice president and executive editor of the Dallas Times Herald, told the 75th annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Tiny aquatic snails of the Florida everglades have extended their range to South America by cruising comfortably aloft in the feathers of a bird, the ibis.

"Wise men gave us constitutional protection. Men before us earned the newspaper's right to that privilege."

"The publisher and editor of today must give that privilege even more stature and repute—or let down completely the millions who hunger to know that they might live."

Economy Is Slow Stuff

Has anyone found several thousand new radio sets or radar navigational units recently, perhaps in some dark recess of the attic? Or has anyone stumbled across warehouses full of material labeled "property of U. S. Navy?"

The Navy Department is red-faced over a recent report by the General Accounting Office that the huge naval establishment is careless with its belongings. It seems to be mislaying all manner of expensive hardware needed to fly its planes, sail its ships and keep its landlubbers occupied in their assigned duties.

Specifically, the GAO has reported to Congress, the Navy has overstated its radio and radar needs by many millions of dollars because of inadequate accounting procedures which lost track of stocks of this equipment on hand. As a consequence, reserve stocks of radio sets at the Norfolk, Va., supply center went unnoticed while planes at Jacksonville, Fla., were grounded from important training missions for lack of identical radio sets.

Inaccurate inventory reporting and sloppy record keeping were also blamed for a duplicate purchase of $2 million worth of radar navigation instruments. After the GAO advised the Navy of its findings, 1,100 of the radar sets were found in storage. The original order was filled, however, and the Navy now has that much more expensive radar equipment in stock.

It has become an annual occurrence for the General Accounting Office to present to Congress many instances of waste, carelessness and duplication in military purchasing procedures, aggregating hundreds of millions of dollars. Congress, possibly because of an uncertainty in knowing where to begin policing the mammoth purchasing agencies of the Defense Department, has offered no legislative remedies.

A good place to begin, and one which has been recommended by the GAO, would be to concentrate the purchase of identical items used by all the services — radar and radio sets, for example — in one Defense Department agency. No business enterprise can afford several independent purchasing and stock control organizations to handle similar items. Neither can the government afford such duplication, but it moves very ponderously in the direction of economy.

Waiting for Plane Is Tedious

CHICAGO, Midway Airport (AP)—Children are taught how to read and write in our society, but no one bothers to teach grownups how to wait for an airplane.

That is one of the big problems with civilization—one has to improve the necessary arts.

The people who design airports obviously have spent little time in them. Otherwise they would make them more habitable for those who by chance—certainly not by design—must spend more time in them than they would by choice.

Here are some of the characters you can meet at almost any airport, as they wait for the airborne chariot to come along and take them to their destination:

The True Vacationer—He has a dollar each to two airlines ticket jockeys to wake him up, then calmly spreads his coat in the middle of the terminal floor and lies down and goes to sleep. He knows his plane has to be ready sometime.

The True Amateur—"Why is my flight late?" she demands, as if airlines considered being tardy a personal responsibility. "I intend to inform my congressman about this." Actually, her congressman is in another part of the terminal waiting for his plane, too. He would write her a letter if he thought it would help him get the plane he wants.

The Compulsive Muncher—He keeps putting dimes in the candy bar machines, dimes in the soft drink machines, until he drops a nickel on the floor. When he bends down to pick it up, melted chocolate flows out of one ear, root beer out of the other.

The Cheap Browser — He

glances through the magazines and the paper-back books. By the time his plane comes in he is able to pass the Harvard tests for a doctorate in literature.

The Flirt—He makes eyes at one of the girls at the ticket counter, finally offers to pay the fare too and divorce his wife if she can arrange for a plane on which they can run away together — anywhere.

The Opportunist—He goes outside, buys some real estate near the airport, settles there and becomes rich.

The Worry Wart—The longer he waits for his plane to come in, the more insurance he buys. Twelve policies later, dripping with sweat he taxis to the nearest railroad terminal. After waiting two days for a train, he then goes home by bus.

Another Form of Taxation

Now it is the National Committee for Economic Freedom that comes along with a proposal to abolish the Income Tax. This has to do with the proposed 23rd Amendment which has passed the Legislatures of Wyoming, Texas, Nevada and Louisiana. This proposed Amendment reads:

"Section 1. The Government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution."

"Section 2. The constitutions or laws of any state, or the laws of the United States shall not be subject to the terms of any foreign or domestic agreement which would abrogate this amendment."

"Section 3. The activities of the United States Government which violate the intent and purposes of this amendment shall, within a period of three years from the date of the ratification of this amendment, be liquidated and the properties and facilities affected shall be sold."

"Section 4. Three years after the ratification of this amendment the sixteenth article of amendments to the Constitution of the United States shall stand repealed and thereafter Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, estates, or gifts."

Unfortunately Section 1 is utterly impossible if we are ever to defend this country. The manufacture of the atom and hydrogen bombs or the atomic submarine involves our government in considerable business enterprise. It we are forced to go into Cuba alone these costs will be greater.

Those who favor this Amendment say:

"The 'Proposed 23rd Amendment', would force the sale of the land and facilities of federal corporate activities back to the American people from whom they were taken, and thus cut the National Debt more than $65,000,000,000."

This program ignores the fact that we are engaged in war with Soviet Russia and that it is necessary to have allies, to have bases abroad, to purchase land in this country. It is difficult to understand the mathematics of their proposal in view of President Kennedy's statement that the United States will not abandon Cuba to Communism.

That statement involves the United States in costly expenditures and in continued military preparations.

The Income Tax is not a wise tax in a capitalist country and it is collected with brutality in this country. Also, there is obvious waste in the cost of Government. Let us say, without figuring too closely, that the waste is as high as $10,000,000,000, which is twice the amount estimated by the Hoover Commission. We still have to find about $80,000,000,000, to meet essential expenditures, about $40,000,000,000 of which goes to war and defense.

Surely those who favor abolishing the Income Tax do not propose to make us defenseless and to turn us over to the kindly ministrations of Khrushchev or Castro. True, the Income Tax takes a great deal of our income, but these deals will take all of our capital.

That being so, their problem obviously is not so much to abolish the Income Tax as to propose another form of taxation that might be more equitable and just. Certainly, one thing that can be done is to make it a felony to move funds abroad with the object of avoiding or evading, choose your own term, taxes. It should also be law that funds deposited abroad to evade or avoid taxes are not inheritable by Americans and may be totally confiscated if brought back in any form. This might help a bit and put some crooks where they belong.

But that still would not solve the problem. There would nevertheless have to be taxes for the manufacture of rockets and missiles and submarines, to say nothing of other purposes. If we are not to have the Income Tax, we might use a Transactions Tax, but the amount needed would be about the same.

As our economy stands today "duties and excises" will not bring in enough to take care of an $80,000,000,000 budget or even a $70,000,000,000 dollar gadget. One of the arguments used by the anti-Income Tax advocates is that Section 8 of Article 1 of the Constitution is sufficient and all else should be repealed. But that article calls for the provision for "common defense and general welfare of the United States."

The common defense is a very costly business and although I hate the Income Tax, I do not see how we can get the money we need except by this tax or a Transactions Tax.

"You were so anxious to teach him how to walk—now find him."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

"You mean to say my chest hurts because I've got a blood clot in my leg?" demanded Charlie.

Charlie had phlebotrombosis—a "clotted vein." Part of this clot can break loose, travel upstream and painfully clog a large artery in the lung.

Swift-flowing rivers rarely freeze solid. But when you're confined to bed after an operation or delivery, swift-streaming blood slows to a soggy ooze. Blue puddles in varicose veins and heavy fat slows this circulation still further.

Now blood can clot inside leg veins. Like spotted leopards, these clots wait silently, poised to strike at any time. Everything seems normal until they attack your lungs.

Painful inflammation may herald the presence of a different kind of blood clot. Your leg feels like a bloated, tender lot, and you see stars when the doctor squeezes your calf or stretches the calfveins by pushing on the ball of your foot.

This thrombophlebitis—a clot in an inflamed vein—rarely breaks loose to cause lung trouble. Charlie had to keep his leg muscles as quiet as possible to keep the rest of the clot from breaking loose. The foot of his bed was raised on wooden blocks to speed blood down the legs before it could clot.

His doctor prescribed a medical antifeeze to prevent new clotting and another drug to help melt the old clot.

But when Charlie felt a new pain in his chest he was wheeled to the operating room, where the surgeon tied a tight knot around the top of the clotted vein. Now, no more chunks could flow upstream.

You can prevent clotting trouble by exercising your leg muscles even when you have to stay in bed. Tapping your foot to keep time to music helps keep rivers of blood racing up your veins.

You won't have any clots to flow up the lazy river—if the river isn't lazy!

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Price fixing is a dirty term to consumers—particularly when they suspect the price is fixed higher than it would have been under free competition.

But price fixing today is also a confusing term because it is so illegal but sometimes its okay and often its done by the government itself.

Price fixing is much in the news today because in Washington a Senate subcommittee is hearing testimony on an antitrust conspiracy for which a federal judge finned 29 makers of electrical equipment nearly $2 million and sent seven of their officials to jail for a month. The offense was illegal price fixing and bid rigging.

But some of the defendants pleaded that if the companies in that crowded industry hadn't divided the market amongst themselves the largest ones could have driven the small ones to the wall. The antitrust laws also frown on any domination of an industry by one or a few companies to the detriment of competition.

Many businessmen are confused about price-fixing bans, because it is customary to try to stop price wars by agreeing on an equitable price that will let all concerned function at a profit instead of a loss.

Businessmen regularly gather in conventions, national or regional, to discuss their problems — such as rising costs that affect prices. Many of them ask tariff protection against imports of foreign goods that could undercut domestic price levels.

Others note that many states have so-called fair trade laws which permit a manufacturer to set the retail price of his product under certain circumstances and forbid maverick retailers from selling below this fixed price.

The comparison shopper is a fixture in the retail world. This type of scout finds out what other merchants are charging for an item so that his employer may adjust prices accordingly. This is free competition and legal.

A MATRON WAS TOOTLING ALONG at a merry clip in her new convertible in the left lane of a parkway when, without warning, she suddenly made a sharp right turn and collided with another car.

"Blank, blank, blank!" roared the other driver. "Why the blank, blank didn't you signal?"

"Don't be absurd," countered the equally outraged matron loftily, "I always turn here."

The president of a big corporation let his eyes roam over the faces of his board of directors, which consisted of his own son, three sons-in-law, and his good-for-nothing nephew.

"Well, gentlemen," he said, "I suggest you give me all your ideas as quickly as possible—before my two tranquilizer pills wear off."

By PAUL H. (AP) — Planning a mortgage-burning ceremony at a Boy Scout campsite, adult leaders decided it should be done in true Scouting style — ignited the mortgage with flint and steel.

The Scout leader stopped forward with his trusty Scout kit. He struck the flint again and again. Plenty of sparks but the mortgage was unscorched.

A helpful companion stepped up and proved that fire can be kindled by flint and steel — in a cigarette lighter.

DAR Hears National Continental Congress Report

The highlight of the annual April meeting of the Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was the report of the National Continental DAR Congress, given by Miss Marie Hamilton, delegate, when the chapter met in the Parish House, Williamsport, at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Richard Hedges, extended a cordial welcome to all members present, and opened the meeting in Ritualistic Form, assisted by the Chaplain, Mrs. R. Rae Bales. Mrs. Stanley Beckett, chairman of the Flag, led in the pledge of Allegiance to the Flag; this was followed by the singing of our National Anthem, with Mrs. Martin Cromley, state Chairman of American Music, of the Ohio Society, DAR at the piano.

Reports of the secretary and treasurer were given. Miss Betsy McCoy, also reported that cards had been sent to Mrs. Orion King and to Mrs. Walter Kinder.

The President General's Message, was read by Mrs. W. L. Mack. Starting her message, Mrs. White said, in the month of April, the National Society, Daughters of American Revolution, held its annual meeting, the Continental Congress.

Do the growth of the Continental Congress, since its organization, which was founded October 11th, 1902, the society have erected three beautiful buildings to house the many delegates who attend these meetings each year.

Mrs. White continued by saying, we should be proud of our fine three buildings in one which add up to the biggest and most beautiful structure that women have ever raised.

May we be reminded of our duties and responsibilities as members of the Daughters of the American Revolution when we enter Memorial Continental Hall and read the inscription that appears on the plaque in the lobby: "Here in this Memorial Hall dedicated to Patriotic Ancestors, it is for us to dedicate ourselves anew to the service of home and country.

We are pledged to perpetuate the American ideals of government, American ideals of social life, American ideals of religious faith and religious freedom. We come here as to a sanctuary, for the service of country is also a service of God."

An invitation was extended to the Pickaway Plains Chapter, DAR, by the members of the Scioto Valley Chapter DAR to attend a luncheon at Lake White Inn, May 5th, at 12:30 p. m. Mrs. Stanley Houghton, State Regent of the Ohio Society, would be guest speaker. Reservations must be in by May 2nd.

At this time Mrs. Hedges introduced Miss Hamilton, who gave a detailed report of the National Continental Congress, which was held in Washington, D. C. April 17th thru 21st. In her talk Miss Hamilton read and stressed on the importance of the many resolutions which were compiled and were adopted by the delegates attending the Congress.

After the adoption of these resolutions they are sent to the President, and all other high executives of our government, and to all members of our senate and congress.

The Honorable Barry Goldwater, spoke on Monday night. He gave a splendid talk on Cuba. Mrs. Elizabeth C. Barnes, National Defense Chairman, gave an outstanding talk on National Defense. She stated that the United States could be taken over by the Communists in five years at the rate it is going now.

"Freedom cannot be bought, it must be earned." We must return to the principles of our forefathers. Don't ever be ashamed to let people know you are a true patriot. We must keep our American way of life, and be true to our ancestors.

Miss Hamilton, mentioned other outstanding speakers. Among them such as Dan Smoot, who has worked under J. Edgar Hoover, for over nine years. His topic, "I will not sin by silence." He believes the Constitution was made to conform to. He also said, the pity of it is, that today man's idea of Freedom is "just taking it easy." "He insists that we must restore our Constitution powers that we inherited from our forefathers." We need to use the Constitution as a yard stick.

Motion Pictures award's which are given each year by The National Society were presented to the best Children's Film, "The Swiss Family Robinson," and to The Batjac Production for the best historical film, "The Alamo."

There were 573 God Honor Ro chapters in the United States, and the Pickaway Plains Chapter, was one of the 573 who merited this honor.

Miss Hamilton, also told the members that the National DAR Magazine was indispensable, and urged every member to take it.

A social hour followed the adjournment of the meeting, with Mrs. Hedges, presiding at the Tea Table.

Hostesses were Mrs. George Hamman, Jr., Chairman, Mrs. Charles Schleich, Mrs. Fred Tipton, Mrs. Fred Corcoran, Mrs. Ice Leellen, Mrs. James Greenwood, Mrs. McClelland Newhouse, Mrs. Earl Lane, Mrs. Russell McDill, Mrs. J. C. Hansen and Mrs. Harry McGhee.

Should Marines Wrestle?

DEAR ABBY: I think you were way off the beam in telling that Marine's wife to let her husband and sons wrestle in the dining room provided they "put everything back" the way they found it. I never saw a man yet who put anything back.

MOTHER OF TWO MARINES

DEAR ABBY: Hooray for telling the Career Marine's wife to let her husband and sons wrestle in the dining room. It's better to have your husband home wrestling with his own sons in the dining room than heaven knows where wrestling with some babe.

SEMPER FIDELIS

DEAR ABBY: I am concerned about a change that has come over me. I know what is wrong, but I can't seem to control it. I talk, talk, talk. I speak rapidly and constantly, interrupt others when they are talking when I have nothing really important to say. I can tell by the looks on the faces around me that people are disgusted with me and I can't blame them. I keep promising myself that I will keep quiet, but before I know it I am jabbering a mile a minute and I am frequently amazed at what I am saying.

I'm 36 years old, have had a lot of surgery these past five years and am inclined toward nervousness. I have always had good sense and now I am asking for your help.

When someone says, "Your Johnny's just like you," is it a compliment, or is it an accusation? Whether you like it or not, children do follow in their parents' footsteps.

Johnny learns that kindness and courtesy are virtues, because you are kind and courteous. He learns to love good books and music, because you love them. He learns, through your example, to speak truthfully.

And if going to church and church school regularly is also a part of your usual routine, Johnny will develop that habit just as he has these others.

Then it is a compliment when someone says, "Your Johnny's just like you," for you are doing all within your power to lead him in the right direction.

Ohio Joins Fight On Hog Cholera

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio has joined a nationwide program de-signed to eradicate hog cholera in the 1960s.

A Committee is being organized to promote an education and ac-tion program. It represents hog pro-ducers, auctions, veterinary medicine, extension and research personnel and general farm or-ganizations.

Dr. Harry G. Geyer, chief of the division of animal industry of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, said Wednesday an intensive cam-paign could eliminate the disease in five years or so.

The death of hogs from cholera cost Ohio farmers $168,000 last year. They also spent an esti-mated million dollars to immu-nize about 40 per cent of the state's million swine population.

When God's Wisdom Prevails

HOW THE PURPOSE OF GOD FOR JOB IS FINALLY ACHIEVED

Scripture—Job 42.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"WE ARE now at the end of the book of Job. As you will re-call, the book began by God giv-ing Satan permission to try Job with the tormenting experiences of physical suffering, and the condemnation of his friends. But behind all this, God has a pur-pose for Job. Satan's purpose was to get Job to curse God, and in this he failed. God's pur-pose is now revealed and suc-cessfully brought to an end through these varied experi-ences." — "Peloubet's Select Notes."

"Then Job answered the Lord, to Job's friend, Eliphaz, "My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends; for ye have not spoken of Me the thing that is right, like My servant Job hath. Therefore take unto you now seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and My servant shall pray for you."—Job 42:7-8.

The men obeyed the Lord, and He "turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends; also the Lord gave Job twice as much as he had before."—Job 42:9-10.

GOLDEN TEXT

"Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches; but let him that glorieth in this, that he understandeth and knoweth Me, that I am the Lord."—Jeremiah 9:23-24.

and said, I know that Thou canst do every thing, and that no thought can be withholden from Thee. Who is he that hideth counsel without knowl-edge? therefore hath I uttered that I understood not; things too wonderful for me, which I knew not."—Job 42:1-3.

"Hear, I beseech Thee, and I will speak; I will demand of Thee, and declare Thou unto me. I have heard of Thee by the hearing of the ear; but now mine eyes seeth Thee. Wherefore I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes."—Job 42:4-6.

Afterwards the Lord said

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A period of fair weather over Ohio during the very early morning hours gradually gave way to increasing cloudiness and light rain today.

Temperatures changed little from Thursday morning's readings ranging from 50 at Chesapeake to 42 at Canton. Toledo had 44, Columbus and Cincinnati 48.

A low pressure area and weak cold front moving southeastward out of the upper Mississippi Valley produced our present cloudy, rain weather.

This system is forecast to move east of Ohio by tonight, bringing cooler temperatures to all sections by this evening. Saturday will offer mostly fair and cool weather but with periods of cloudiness in the northern area.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST
SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures through Wednesday will average 2-8 degrees below normal. Normal high 65-74, normal low 42-55. Continued cool with only minor day-to-day temperature changes. Precipitation will average one-half to three-quarters inch in scattered showers mainly early next week.

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average 8-11 degrees below normal. Normal high 62-64, normal low 41-45. Cool with only minor day-to-day changes through Wednesday. Precipitation will average one-quarter to one-half inch in occasional periods of scattered showers Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Scouts To Be Honored For Rescue of Tot

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati Girl Scout and Boy Scout team will be honored Saturday for rescuing a Finneytown youngster last fall.

Camilla Haynes and Thomas Keller, both 12, rescued 14-month-old Thomas Gilkey when the child fell into the family swimming pool. Camilla pulled him out and Tom revived him with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation he learned in the scouts. The two youths will receive district and national heroism certificates during televised ceremonies.

TV Takes On Outdoor Flavor

NEW YORK (AP)—Television, like its viewers, is beginning to move outdoors for the summer season.

In addition to baseball, there are a couple of sports specials now turning up weekly for the spectators. There are other items in the next few days, too, but the supply is thinning.

Tonight, for instance, there's NBC's "Young at Heart" musical special (10-11 Eastern Standard Time) with Jane Powell, Art Carney and Gwen Verdon.

ABC premieres its new "World of Sports" series Saturday afternoon (5-6) with pictures and commentary on both the Penn and the Drake relays.

Sunday's highlights emphasize the space age: CBS' "Twentieth Century" (6:30-7 p.m.) is a review of civilian defense in the age of missiles. NBC has a news special, "The Astronauts," which includes interviews with the three candidates waiting for America's first manned missile launching.

NBC's Barbara Stanwyck Show Monday night (10-10:30) is a timely drama: "Yanqui, Go Home," about an American trapped in a Latin-American revolution. Tuesday night's CBS "Thriller" (9-10) concerns a scholarly book dealer who uses his knowledge of literature to learn his wife is unfaithful.

Glenda Farrell and Tom Tully, once a cop in "The Line Up," star in Wednesday's Steel Hour on CBS (10-11 p.m.), in a drama called "Summer Rhapsody."

CBS' "Summer Sports Spectacular" Thursday (7:30-8:30 p.m.) traces the history of the new Los Angeles baseball team. And ABC's "Silents, Please," (10:30-11) is a condensation of D. W. Griffiths' classic "America."

The flag ceremony was presented by Girl Scout Troop No. 321. Devotions were given by Mrs. Felix Dore.

The main item of business for the meeting was the election of officers for the 1961-62 school year. Elected were Gene Tosca, president; Mrs. Donald Flieri, vice-president; Mrs. Chester Peters, treasurer; and Mrs. Emerson Dum, secretary.

They voted to sponsor and serve the Honor Banquet at the school on May 19 starting at 6:30 p. m. Contributions were made to the Pickaway County Council for Exceptional Children and to the Cancer Fund. Roll call was won by grade 12 with the most parents in attendance.

Benis Lutz, assistant principal, announced that Dorothy Dickinson, a senior student in the school, has been presented a scholarship from the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Following the meeting the group was invited to visit the interesting displays of projects completed by the home economic department, the manual arts department, and the physics department.

She is reported in good condition. She was returned home Tuesday morning.

The Ashville Community Club met Monday evening in the park shelterhouse with 21 members and two guests present. A roast-beef dinner was prepared and served to the group by Warren Bastian and Bud Glitt.

Mary Pierce, local hairdresser, was present to explain the new Senate Bill No. 361 dealing with cosmetology. The bill from the hairdresser's point of view is found to be unsatisfactory. She brought printed letters that the businessmen could mail to their senators urging rejection of the bill.

Joe Montinelli, representative of Blue Cross and Blue Shield Insurance, was present to show the film, "Birth by Appointment" to the group.

Business discussed at the monthly meeting included donating $100 to the Teay's Valley Little League to purchase insurance for the league. Orlan Hines, fireworks chairman, told of signing a contract with Columbus Fireworks Display to purchase and show the fireworks for the Fourth of July celebration.

Permission was granted Wade Carter to borrow the folding chairs in the shelterhouse for one day to be used at the Evangelical United Brethren Church for a large meeting of ministers to be held in the church in the near future.

It was decided by the group in place of a large item being raffled off at the Independence Day celebration this year, several small ones will be given with tickets being purchased at the park only.

Auto Thief Gets 1-20-Year Term

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—George Mortimer, 22, of Chillicothe has been sentenced to 1-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary after a Franklin County Criminal Court jury found him guilty of auto theft.

Immediately after Judge Dana F. Reynolds passed sentence on Mortimer, Prosecutor Earl Allison filed an entry with the court dismissing a similar charge against Mortimer's father, 70-year - old Clifford.

The father and son had been the subject of investigations ordered by the court following the son's arrest on an auto theft charge.

The grand jury indicted the son, and the father later claimed he stole the car. The elder Mortimer later withdrew his confession.

Cleveland's Building Trade Scale Hiked

CLEVELAND (AP) — Some 40,000 workers in the building trades will receive 45 cents an hour in wage increases under a new three-year contract.

Agreement on the pact to take the place of one that expires Sunday was announced Thursday by the Building Trades Council, representing 15 unions and the employer groups — the Building Trades Employers Association and the Associated General Contractors.

Members of Plumbers Local 55 will vote Monday night on essentially the same settlement reached by the other crafts, plus other items worked out in negotiations Thursday. The plumbers negotiate separately, as do the Sheetmetal Workers Union and the Pipe Fitters Union, both of which were in session Thursday night.

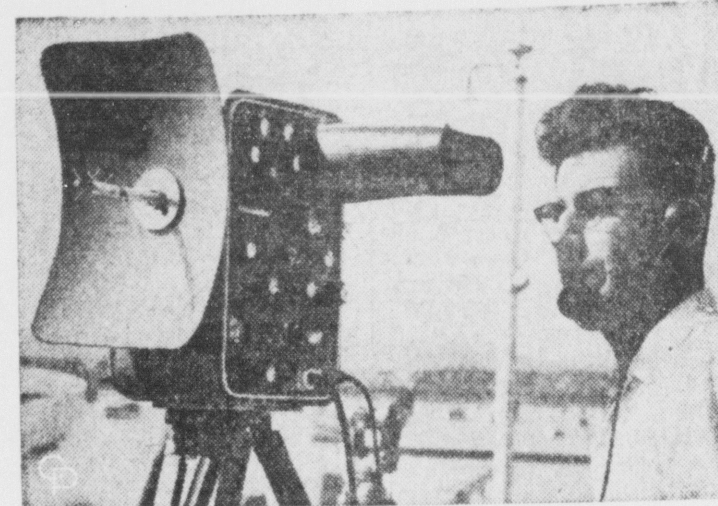

The bricklayers settled Tuesday night with the masonry contractors of Cleveland for an increase of 42½ cents an hour over the next three years.

The building trades contract, which expires April 30, 1964, calls for an increase of 15 cents an hour May 1, another 15 cents on May 1, 1962, and 15 cents more May 1, 1963.

The basic trades — carpenters, iron workers and the like, now receive $4.11 an hour and bricklayers receive $4.18½. Electricians now get $4.17 an hour and will go up 12 cents Monday under the last advance of a three-year agreement.

Methodist To Head Cleveland Federation

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Howard J. Brown, pastor of the Methodist Church of the Saviour has been elected president of the Cleveland Area Church Federation. He succeeds a layman, Robert E. Bingham of Fairmount Presbyterian, who served two years.

Sunday Matinee Ready To Roll

Providing the weatherman gives the right sign, approximately 40 trotters and pacers will nose the starting gate in Sunday's Harness Matinee at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Eight dashes are on the card and post time is set for 1:30 p. m. If the weatherman doesn't cooperate May 7 will prevail as the rain date.

Many of the horses and drivers signaling the start of the harness season here are from this area. All seem to be ready for the gate following several months of extensive training at the Fairgrounds and elsewhere.

Two of the races, both classified paces, will be in two heats. Four others will be single dashes.

Red Wings Leave Cellar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Rochester Red Wings, up to now as cold as the handful of fans who turned out Thursday night in Jersey City and Richmond, have finally deserted the International League cellar.

And the Wings did it by beating the loop's hottest team, San Juan, which had won four in a row. Rochester, capitalizing on the wilderness of relief pitcher Ray Washburn, chilled the Marlins 6-3, and moved ahead of Syracuse into seventh place.

Syracuse lost to Jersey City 5-3 as only 406 fans watched in 40-degree weather. The thermometer registered the same in Richmond where the Virginians beat Buffalo 6-1 in the other scheduled game before only 408 fans.

Columbus' Jets were host to their parent Pittsburgh Pirates in an exhibition game and absorbed a 7-1 drubbing. Former Jet pitchers George Witt, Tom Cheney and Jim Umbricht totaled 13 strikeouts and were backed by a 12-hit Bue attack. Bob Skinner and Joe Christopher each had three hits, including a home run, for the National Leaguers.

23 High Schools To Vie in Trials

Nine Ohio schools will send representatives, including Marietta, Upper Arlington, Columbus West, Ironton, Portsmouth, South Point, East Palestine and New Lexington St. Aloysius, and Gallipolis.

Kentucky entries are Ashland, Prestonsburg and Lexington Lafayette.

Tigers Lose, 4-3 In 8-Inning Tilt

Five errors and nine men left on base spelled doom for Circleville's Tigers yesterday as they dropped a home - field heartbreaker to South Central Ohio loop foe Pleasant View, 4-3 in eight innings.

CHS slugger Freddie Moore, belted three hits one a double in four attempts for the losers. Dick Kline contributed a solid triple in three tries. The Tigers as a team out hit the Panthers 8 to 5, but it wasn't enough to overcome Pleasant View's errorless play.

First inning Tiger miscues sandwiched between a couple of Panther hits gave the visitors a 2-0 advantage before Circleville had been to bat.

Tight pitching by CHS ace Sam Weller, who permitted only one walk while striking out eight men, kept the Panthers at bay for the next five stanzas. Circleville picked up single t a l l i e s in the third, fourth and fifth frames to hold a 3-2 margin going into the seventh.

Senator Frost Wins $15,000 1 1/2-Mile Trot

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Senator Frost, owned by Wayne Galvin of Wilmington, Ohio, Thursday night won the $15,000, 1 1/2-mile "consolation" race for trotters who failed to qualify for the National Championship Trot at Yonkers Raceway.

Senator Frost went the distance in 3:10 3/5—matching Su Mac Lad's winning time in the National.

The Senator paid $4.90. Curly Harry was second and Rexall Boy third.

French champion Masina was the 3-2 favorite but dropped back after the early going and finished last, 18 lengths behind the winner.

Su Mac Lad won a third consecutive international race at Yonkers Raceway, and stands supreme today as the best trotter in the world.

The 7-year-old gelded son of Potomac Lad-Spud's Sue barged into the lead soon after the start of the invitational $50,000 National Trotting Championship Thursday night and remained there to beat Air Record by three quarters of a length.

Tornese, the Italian champion, finished third.

Two weeks ago Su Mac Lad, driven in all his races by Stanley Dancer, won the $65,000 Gotham Trot. Last week, he won the $50,000 United Nations Trot.

The National was 1 1/2 miles, same distance as the United Nations, and Thursday nights clocking was 3:10 3/5.

Most players from last season's Mid-American Conference football champion Ohio University Bobcats are slated to appear in Saturday's first annual Alumni-Varsity game in Peden Stadium in Athens.

Joe Dean, Bob Brooks, Dave Wagner and Jim Massarelli will be among the starters for the alumni squad. They will be opposed by players on next fall's roster.

Proceeds will go into an athletic scholarship fund at the school.

TRUCK ROUNDUP

Western star Roy Rogers spreads the good word for your local dealer! "Right now he's making it easier than ever to own America's easiest riding truck. That's Chevy — the truck that saves you plenty with its special brand of Independent Front Suspension."

Chevy's hefty Jobmaster 6, standard in Series 60 middleweights, is known far and wide for its fuel-saving performance.

Just pick the model that fits your job and you can be sure you're putting your truck dollars where they'll do the most good. You'll get a super-efficient power to capacity ratio, a truck that's Sturdy-Bilt clear through, a king-size cab to keep your driver happy. And savings that just naturally go along with Chevrolet's I.F.S. ride.

You save on maintenance costs. I.F.S. lengthens truck life and protects cargoes by soaking up as much as 78% of all objectionable road shock and vibration. Your truck keeps working for extra thousands of miles! How in the world can you go wrong! Especially now—during truck roundup time!

CHEVROLET LES TRUCKS

Chevy's famous Thriftmaster 6 does the saving in this Fleetside model. It's the most highly respected truck 6 ever put under a hood. It's best known for economy and dependability—for pulling more loads over the years than any other truck engine. The 135-horsepower 235-cu.-in. Thriftmaster's standard in all Chevy pickups.

J. Wray Henry Honored By CTA

J. Wray Henry, slated for retirement August 1 after 23 years as principal of Circleville High School was feted by 136 members of the City Teacher's Association during an annual banquet - business meeting Thursday night at the Lake White clubhouse.

Henry, well - known to two generations of CHS students and their parents, was presented a portable stereophonic phonograph by Tom Bennett, CHS health and science instructor, as a token of appreciation to the veteran school administrator.

Assisting Bennett with the presentation ceremony were Mrs. Clark Will, Miss Elma Rains and Miss Mary Walters.

Prior to the presentation G. A. Hartman, city school superintendent, added his words of praise "for the long and distinguished service given the Circleville schools by Henry."

FEATURED speaker for the evening was Dr. Homer Cotterman, professor of education at Capital University. Dr. Cotterman prefaced his remarks with several humorous anecdotes about teaching and teachers, but struck a serious vein when he reminded the group of the challenge posed to effective teaching by the complexities of modern life. He noted

Federal ROTC Views Sought At Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Novice G. Fawcett, president of Ohio State University, will propose a program of voluntary ROTC training at the school unless the Defense Department feels compulsory ROTC is necessary for national security.

That's the word from student senate president Philip Moots. Upon hearing of Fawcett's assurance to Moots, the student senate Thursday night abandoned plans to sponsor a demonstration against ROTC on Corps Day, May 4.

The Reserve Officers Training Corps course at the university is now compulsory for all male students in their freshman and sophomore years.

The OSU faculty council last June recommended to Fawcett that Ohio State adopt a voluntary ROTC program.

Defense Department spokesmen have indicated a decision will be forthcoming in 60 to 90 days on how the depart-ent feels about compulsory ROTC.

Public Health Medics To Get New Pay Setup

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, Cincinnati health commissioner, has been authorized by the Board of Health to work out details of converting public health physicians from a civil service salary system to a set-up where the doctors would be paid only for the hours they actually work. Dr. MacLeod proposed a $7 hourly rate for the doctors. He said the new system would save the city money.

the threat of Communism, and stressed that teachers must be well-informed about current events to be of value to their students.

Richard Snouffer, principal-elect of CHS and retiring association president, introduced the officers elected to head the group during the 1961-62 school year.

They are: Richard Beadle, president; Kester McCain, vice president; Mrs. Louise Roth, secretary; and Leslie Dearth, treasurer.

Other retiring officers are: Mrs. Kathryn Barnhill, vice president; Mrs. Wanda Tacy, secretary; and George Mallett, treasurer.

Invocation and Benediction were given by Rev. Paul Wachs of the First Methodist Church.

Robert Ransom and Mrs. Kathryn Barnhill served as co-chairman in arranging the program. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Henry, son and daughter-in-law of the honored guest.

Space Capsule

the 3,000-pound capsule to about 35,000 feet, where a timing device triggered the escape sequence.

The vehicle at that moment was traveling at about 1,200 miles an hour.

Later when a capsule is launched by a more powerful Redstone or Atlas rocket, it will attain much greater speeds but at much higher altitudes where air resistance and the pull of gravity will be greatly reduced and thereby produce no more stress.

At Little Joe's peak altitude of about 40,000 feet, an escape rocket on a tower 12 feet above the capsule ignited and pulled the spacecraft away from the rocket.

Then a small parachute opened to stabilize the capsule, after which a large chute blossomed out and lowered the capsule into the water about five minutes after the launching. A helicopter quickly picked it up.

The sequence was visible from the launch site under bright sunny skies.

Even before the recovery an official reported the operation had gone off under conditions a man apparently could have survived.

The missile took off at an 80-degree angle and arched for 30 seconds through the clear blue sky before the engines burned out.

Today's test by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration designed to subject the Mercury space capsule to the most severe stresses and pressures that could occur on liftoff.

The moment of peak stress in today's shot occurred between the altitudes of 35,000 and 45,000 feet, when the air pressure at the nose of the vehicle rises to 40 times the force produced by a 100-mile-an-hour hurricane.

The capsule was the same one launched by Little Joe VI on March 18 and recovered 20 miles offshore, slightly damaged. In that shot the Mercury escape rocket fired prematurely and caused a faulty sequence of separation.

The damage resulting from that shot was repaired and the capsule was in a new condition when launched today

Ashville Wins County Playoff

Walnut Takes 3rd Position, 11-3

Ashville captured the Pickaway championship last night, defeating Logan Elm 7-5 on a pair of last-inning runs.

In posting their seventh win of an undefeated season, Ashville relied on the heavy hitting of Bainter, who clubbed three hits in four at-bats, one a double good for two runs.

The remainder of Ashville's nine hits came on singles by Flierl, Brown, Gregg, Roof, Neal and Kuhlwein.

Logan Elm's six blows were collected by Clarke, Griffith, D. Dean, Harral, Bob Parker and Horn (a double).

ASHVILLE started fast and held a 4-1 margin after two innings. LE came back for four runs in its half of the fifth to tie the score at 5-all, but Ashville tallied its winning pair in the top of the eighth to wrap it up.

Winning pitcher was Rathburn who struck out five and walked one. Dean, the loser, walked one and fanned six.

The defeat was Logan Elm's second of the season against seven victories. Both losses came at the hands of Ashville.

IN A consolation contest to determine the third representative of the Pickaway County circuit in district playoffs, Walnut buried Scioto under a 15-hit barrage, 11-3.

Walnut tallied at least one run in every inning but the fifth, while Scioto scored a single marker in the fourth and a pair in the fifth.

Harber tagged a home run with one on to start the Walnut assault in the first inning. He also starred on the mound where he struck out 13 while permitting only five walks.

Dog Owners Warned By Local Warden

Pickaway County Dog Warden Ralph Wallace reminded area dog owners again today all canines must be chained and not permitted to run loose.

Wallace said the law requires all dogs to be restricted from running loose from March 1, through October 1.

The dog warden said violators are subject to a minimum fine of $5 and costs.

'We Need Boys' Plead BR Heads

"We have plenty of sponsors — now all we need are players," This was the consensus of opinion held by Babe Ruth League officials after two disappointing days of player registration.

Only 35 boys of the needed 140 have signed up so far, and loop heads urged all boys 13 through 15 years old interested in playing BR ball this summer to come to the shelterhouse at Ted Lewis Park today at 5:30 p. m. or tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Registration will be conducted regardless of weather, officials announced.

Self-Censorship by Press On Cold War Issues Asked

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy urges that American newspaper publishers consider some form of self-censorship in light of cold war threats to national security.

He has given no particulars on what he has in mind. But he says his administration would cooperate wholeheartedly if the press would "consider and recommend the voluntary assumption of specific new steps or machinery."

The President emphasized that he was not proposing government censorship or new secret classifications, which could be abused, on government activity.

He suggested that the newspapers weigh not only whether a story is news but also whether publication is in the interest of national security.

A cross-section of publishers adopted a restrained attitude toward Kennedy's appeal "to heed the duty of self-restraint" in their news columns. Those interviewed supported the general idea, but some insisted on specific guidelines.

Kennedy made his proposal Thursday night in an address before 1,700 publishers, editors and other newspaper executives and their wives at the annual dinner of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Local Man Fined For Unchained Dog

A local man pleaded innocent to charges filed against him yesterday in Circleville Municipal Court for permitting his dog to run loose in neighboring yards.

Samuel R. Tomlinson, S. Scioto St., was fined $10 and costs by Judge Sterling L a m b. Charges were filed by Pearl Speakman.

The dog, a Red Boxer, is in the custody of Ralph Wallace, dog warden.

Speeder Fined In City Court

A Detroit, Michigan motorist was the only traffic violator listed on the Circleville Municipal Court docket today.

Thomas Harry Oldham, 23, was fined $30 and costs for speeding at 80 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

He was arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

The dinner address was part of a two-day speech and conference trip.

Kennedy — deeply concerned over rebel disregard of an East-West cease-fire appeal in Laos — today opens a new series of talks on world dangers with leading Americans and United Nations officials.

Kennedy first scheduled meetings with former President Herbert Hoover and General of the Army Douglas MacArthur. He arranged to drive from his suite in the Carlyle Hotel to the Waldorf-Astoria, where Hoover and MacArthur have apartments.

Then he invited Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations, and U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to lunch in his own quarters.

His purpose was to acquaint all four with White House views—and seek their thoughts—on Cuba, Laos and other trouble spots.

Hoover is the fifth leading Republican to confer with Kennedy on world problems in recent days. The others were former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Kennedy said in his proposal for consideration of self-censorship: "If the press is awaiting a declaration of war before it imposes the self-discipline of combat conditions then I can only say that no war ever posed a greater threat to our security."

"If you are awaiting a finding of 'clear and present danger,' then I can only say that the danger has never been more clear and its presence has never been more imminent."

Kennedy said that to meet "this national peril" there are two requirements: far greater public information as well as far greater official secrecy.

He was applauded when he said no administration official should exploit his remarks to censor news, cover up mistakes or "withhold from the press and the public the facts they deserve to know."

He again was applauded—for the only other time in his speech—when he said no president should fear public scrutiny of his program and asked the help of publishers "in the tremendous task of informing and alerting the American people."

Savings and Loan Business Climbs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Joseph E. Linville, executive secretary of the Ohio Savings and Loan League issued an optimistic report on business conditions today.

He said first quarter report from savings and loan associations in the state showed a decided increase in business over the first quarter of 1960, and added that "in fact, the reports were so encouraging that if business conditions continue to improve and rise at the present rate, the recession will be completely licked by the time fall rolls around."

He said all resources of association firms climbed by almost $96 million in the first three months of 1961—$24.7 million better than the 1960 increase in assets.
